AND

THE SOCIETY FOR PETROLEUM ENGINEERS DELTA SECTION (SPE)

“Developing an Early-Warning System for Well/Reservoir Problems”

KEY NOTE SPEAKERS:

Dr. Fred Goldsberry is an Honors graduate of Texas A&M, University in Mechanical Engineering. He also earned an MSME and Ph.D. Degrees from Texas A&M as well as an MBA from the University of St. Thomas. Fred has functioned in every aspect of oil and gas exploration, drilling, completions, production, and pipelines both onshore and offshore. Fred formed WAVEX[®], Inc. in 1995 based upon his longstanding interest in the engineering mechanics of pressure transient phenomena and has practiced wave mechanics base reservoir mapping since that time as an independent engineering consultant. Fred holds eleven U. S. Patents in control systems, energy conversion systems, geopressured secondary oil recovery, nuclear waste storage, and transient well testing.

Mr. Chris Fair received his BS in Chemical Engineering and his MS in Petroleum Engineering from the University of Houston. During school, he worked in various positions in the chemical and oil industry. In 1997, he joined Data Retrieval Corporation where he worked on expanding the range & types of wells that could be effectively tested from the surface, and worked on increasing the company’s markets, both in the US and overseas. In 2005, he started Oilfield Data Services, Inc., a reservoir/production engineering consulting firm that specializes in well test interpretation and field management of well flowbacks/exploration DSTs. Chris is hard at work on a real-time well evaluation package, designed to track changes in reservoir, completion and wellbore parameters & provide an “early-warning system” to petroleum engineers.
